Its Outcome May Be the Abolition of Capital Punishment as the Penalty for Murder-The Chances of the Assassing

SORIA, May 30.—The trial of Major Panitza and nine others charged with conspiracy against the government of Bulgaria ended today. Major Panitza was sentenced to death. The court, however, intimates that Prince Ferdinand, the ruler of Bulgaria mich towards his Is the death penalty "played out?" It would seem so, so far as the state of intimates that Prince Ferdinand, the ruler of Bulgaria, might possibly commute his sentence to imprisonment for fifteen years. Captain Kalohoff was sentenced to nine years' imprisonment. Major Amandoff and Major Risoff were each sentenced to imprisonment for six years. The six others charged with complicity were acquitted. New York is concerned. At any rate the legal battle over the substitution of elec-tricity for the rope has reached a stage where a compromise proposal to abolish capital punishment altogether is receiving serious consideration by the members of the legislature.
At present, however, the situation is perplexing and the only people who view it with complacency are the eight men in BANK OFFICIALS CONVICTED.

A HUGE CRACKER TRUST.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 30.—The Journal prints tenight the particulars of the formation of a big cracker trust with a capital of $10,000,000 and including nearly every prominent cracker maker in the country. It is to conduct the entire business of the various concerns, trust stock to the amount of $10,000,000 being issued in turn for the transferring of the individual properties. DR. A. P. SOUTHWICL This proposition, of course, is disputed, extended controversy, provided always that Kemmler comes out of the fight victorious. Meanwhile, however, the attempt to abolish the death penalty is at least interesting and worthy of note.

It was in 1875 that Dr. A. P. Southwick, of Buffalo, conceived the plan of substituting the wire for the gallows. He regarded the legal taking of buman life as a necessary evil, a somber adjunct to the demands of Nineteenth century civilization. But, he reasoned, if a man has forfeited existence because of crime, there is no excuse for sending him to eternity by a barbarous and cruel method. He decided that a properly directed electric current would produce instant and painless dissolution, and satisfy the law's demands without The Arabian year is lunar, and in the subjecting the criminal to any undue mental or physical agony. A Decision of Large Impostance.

Justice Fuller, of the supreme court of the United States, has to do with the liquor question and would seem to settle at least one point of that important issue. Beer was sent from Illinois to Iowa and sold as it came. Officers seized the beer. The owner sued and got judgment, but the decision in his favor was reversed by the su-preme court of lows. When taken to the Proterns court of lows. When takes to the Proterns tribunal the borr saller scored an ultimate victory. The decision means that liquor can be taken to any state in "orig-inal packages," no matter how small, and sold to consumers.
